Fun-Da-Mentals Kitchen Skills

knife skills: Bear Claw (growl), Pinch, Plank, and Bridge (look out for trolls).

chop: to cut something into small, rough pieces using a blade.

grate: to reduce food, like a carrot, to very small shreds or pieces of the same size by rubbing it on a tool with an outside surface that has holes with cutting edges (a grater).

mince: to chop into teeny tiny pieces.

slice: to cut into thin pieces using a sawing motion with your knife.

knife skills: Bear Claw (growl), Pinch, Plank, and Bridge (look out for trolls).

chop: to cut something into small, rough pieces using a blade.

squeeze: to firmly press or twist a food with fingers, hands, or a device to remove its liquid, like shredded potatoes, frozen and thawed spinach, or tofu.

toss: to lightly lift and drop food items together or coat food items with flour, or a sauce or dressing, as in a salad.

Orange Italiano Ice

Instructions

Italian "Lenticchia" (Lentil) Bolognese Pasta

snip + peel + grate + slice

Use a pair of clean scissors to snip 5 green onions into small bits. Next, peel and grate 2 large carrots carefully using a box grater and then slice 2 celery stalks.

smash + peel + mince

Using the heel of your hand, smash 2 garlic cloves against a cutting board (adults might need to help with this!). Then peel the garlic and mince up the cloves into small bits.

chop + sauté + season

Chop 1 zucchini into tiny bits! Then chop 8 ounces of cremini mushrooms into small bits, too. Next, add 2 tablespoons of olive oil to a large skillet or soup pot. Sauté the onions, garlic, carrots, and celery over medium heat until soft. Season with 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 tablespoon Italian seasoning and stir. Add the chopped mushrooms and cook until soft.

add + boil + simmer + stir

Add 1 cup of red lentils and 3 cups of water to your skillet or stockpot. Bring to a boil, lower to a simmer, and cook until the lentils are al dente and water is absorbed. Meanwhile, bring 4 cups of water to a boil in a separate pot and add 16 ounces of fettuccine noodles. Boil until the noodles are al dente, then drain and drizzle with olive oil to keep them from sticking. To the lentils, stir in 1 can of crushed tomatoes and 1 teaspoon of salt. Simmer uncovered until sauce thickens, about another 5 to 10 minutes. Taste and season with more salt or sugar if needed. Serve over cooked fettuccine noodles and top with parmesan cheese! "Mangia bene" (MAN-jah BEH-neh) or "Eat well" in Italian!

Tasty Tricolore Radicchio Salad

slice + chop

Slice 1 endive head into ribbons and chop 1/2 to 1 head of radicchio into roughly 1-inch pieces. Next, chop 1 cucumber into half-moons or half-inch chunks and add all the chopped veggies to a mixing bowl.

squeeze + whisk + toss

Squeeze the juice from 1/2 an orange into a bowl. Whisk in 1/4 cup olive oil, 1/2 teaspoon Italian seasoning, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper. Pour over chopped veggies and toss to combine!

Orange Italiano Ice

squeeze + measure + blend + pour

Squeeze the juice from 4 oranges into a blender. Measure and add 1/4 cup sugar, 1 cup water, and 2 cups ice. Blend until the mixture is thick and smooth, adding more water if you need to thin it out. Pour into cups and shout "Salute" (sah-LOO-teh) or "Cheers" in Italian!

Featured Ingredient: Lentils!

Hi! I'm Lentil!

"I'm small, but I pack a powerful punch—a nutritional punch, that is! I'm also a tasty addition to soups, chili, pasta, and salads and make a yummy vegan burger!

History & Etymology

Lentils are edible legumes that were first domesticated in the area of the Fertile Crescent, which extends across Iraq, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Northern Egypt, Palestine, Syria, and parts of Iran, Kuwait, and Turkey. Archeologists have found evidence of lentil cultivation in Greece from 11,000 BCE and Syria around 6,000 BCE.

Today, most of the world's lentils grow in Canada and India.

The word "lentil" comes from Middle English from the Old French "lentille," from the Latin "lenticula," a diminutive of "lens." The scientific name for lentils is "Lens culinaris."

Anatomy

Lentils are part of the Fabaceae family, called the legume or pea family. The edible seeds, or pulses, grow on a flowering plant that is 6 to 18 inches tall. Two lens-shaped seeds grow in each pod.

Lentils come in different sizes and colors, like brown, yellow, red, green, or black. They can also be mottled or speckled. However, the most common lentils are brown, green, and red.

How to Pick, Buy, & Eat

Choose brown lentils that hold their texture when cooked if you use them as a side dish or want them whole in a soup without getting mushy.

Green or French lentils also remain firm when cooked and are good in salads. Black or Beluga lentils are similar to French lentils.

Red lentils cook the fastest but lose their shape, so they are suitable for purées and soups, like Indian dals. You can flavor lentils with a variety of spices and herbs. They can be boiled, soaked, fermented, fried, puréed, and made into fritters, soup, and tossed in salads. Lentils are cheap, nutrient-dense, versatile, and tasty!

Nutrition

Lentils are a rich source of protein, fiber, food energy, B vitamins (especially folate), phosphorus, iron, and magnesium.

Like other legumes, such as beans, lentils are high in protein and can serve as a meat replacement.

The soluble fiber in lentils helps keep blood sugar under control.
